Government Report Shows
How Villages and Towns Have Grown Since the Organization of the Province in 1905

Thirty-five villages created, fifteen towns established and four cities incorporated. This is the record of the marvellous growth of the province of Alberta since the inauguration ceremonies of September, 1905.

The figures, which were furnished by Premier Rutherford, show that the period since inauguration has been a great growing time for the young province.

What the creation of these new corporations means to the development of Alberta can to some extent be estimated when it is borne in mind that the villages, towns and cities have more than doubled in number in the four years.

In the year 1906 some thirty-seven villages were established.
The names of these villages are as follows:

Bawlf, Cowley, Daysland, Ev-arts, Hardisty, Killam, Lloyd minster, Lavoie, Oxbow, Stettler, Vermilion, Vegreville and Marmville.

In the year 1907 nine villages were established. The names of these villages are as follows:

Alix, Crossfield, Islay, Langdon, Mundare, Spruce Grove, Sedgewick, Stony Plain and Tofield.

In the year 1908 four villages
were established. The names of these villages are as follows:

Bruderheim, Warner, Strathmore, Crescent Heights.

were established. The names
of these villages are as follows: Airdrie, Bassano, Castor, Ent-whistle, Grouard, Holden, Pincher City, Viking and Wainwright.

VILLAGES BECOME TOWNS
In the year 1906 eight villages were proclaimed towns, and are
as follows:

Camrose, Didsbury, High River, Leduc, Pincher Creek, Ver-million, Vegreville.

In the year 1907 four villages were proclaimed towns, and are as follows:

Daysland, Magrath, Nanton, Taber.

In the year 1908 one village was proclaimed a town and is as follows:

Stony Plain.

In the year 1909 two villages were proclaimed towns, and are
as follows:

Tofield, Irvine.

In the year 1906 three towns were proclaimed cities:

Medicine Hat, Lethbridge and Wetaskiwin.

In the year 1907 one town was proclaimed a city: Strathcona.

The brakeman was a novice, and on his first run there was a stiff grade to mount, on which the engineer always had more or less trouble, but this time he came near sticking. At the station at the top of the grade, the engineer saw the new brakeman, and with a sigh, said: "I tell you what, my lad, we had a job to get up there, didn't we?" "We certainly did," replied the brakeman, "and if I hadn't put the brake on, we'd have slipped back."

Canadian Grain at Omaha Exhibition

Exhibits From West Attract Attention of Many Visitors-- Interested in Canada

R. C. W. Lett, travelling passenger and colonization agent of the G.T.P., has just returned from a trip to the United States during which he visited the Omaha Fair.

He states that the exposition was a very great success. It was attended by over 100,000 people, and this attendance would have been larger at the roads around Omaha had been in better condition. As it was, a heavy fall of snow had rendered them almost impassable.

The Canadian exhibits attracted much attention and excited more general interest than any others. This was not only due to their intrinsic excellence, but partly to the fact that visitors could handle and test them and obtain samples if they so desired. Many of the American exhibits were bottled up and fenced in. This did not suit the farmers and millers, who for the most were the visitors to the fair. They like to handle and examine the grain.

There is no doubt, in Mr.
Lett's opinion, that the exhibits sent by the government and private parties from Canada have done some first-rate advertising for the Canadian west.
The visitors to the fair were largely representative farmers and they were anxious to get information on the subject of land and crops in Western Canada.

W. D. Bennett, the Canadian government emigration agent at Omaha, was kept busy answering enquiries during the exposition. He is an indefatigable worker and very much respected in Omaha. Mr. Lett considers he is doing very valuable colonization work.

In Chicago, according to Mr.
Lett, there is increasing interest being taken in Canadian affairs. There is great demand for information on the value of farm and city property, and many Illinois farmers in the neighborhood of Chicago will likely swell the tide of American emigration this year.

It was 15 degrees below zero at Melville one night last week.

The Massey estate, of Toronto, has donated $50,000 for the new Methodist college in connection with the Provincial University at Stratford.

F. W. Watkins and John Fury, of Irma, were in the town last week.

J. G. Clark, of Irma, was a visitor to the town Monday.
